THE PEOPLE SPEAK

"What do you think of the action of the County Commissioners Monday in putting off 'indefinitely' construction of a Glades sub-courthouse?"

OBSERVER asked that question of a number of Glades citizens this week. Their answers follow:

HERBERT BECK, Belle Glade: "It has been suggested that the County Commission make a survey as to the location. I feel it is up to them to do this and to decide on the basis of that survey no matter where it places the courthouse. That's what they were elected for—to take a stand. Since they are not sure themselves they should appoint this survey committee. I am in favor of a sub-courthouse—it would eliminate a lot of extra travel for many people."

JOHN PICKETT, Pahokee: "In my opinion the County Commission is always willing to offer something to the Glades that is controversial since they know the people of the Glades won't get together. I feel this is being used as a political ploy. However, until people in the Glades get together on such things they won't get anything."

FRANK WILLITS, South Bay: "I don't see what else the Commission could do in view of the controversy as it now stands between the Glades communities for location of the sub-courthouse."

BOYD VORHEES, Canal Point: "A once-a-year convenience seems hardly worth the money expended for a project which has to be supported all year long. It seems to me that there is little reason to have a court house located here until we have grown several times larger than we are now. Every body has to pay for it and that somebody is the taxpayer. Certainly a court house would create employment and a convenience, but county business should be run like private business, that is economically, and that sub-courthouse is good economy at this time."

PORT ACCESS IS SETTLED

BELLE GLADE — Access to the Port of Belle Glade will be a reality as a result of negotiations between the City Commission and the Port of Palm Beach. Authority it was announced in special commission meeting Tuesday night.

Port of Palm Beach authorities agreed to pay the City of Belle Glade the cost of raising the grade of the access road to the existing dock facility, it was reported to City Manager C. E. Robinson in a telephone conversation Tuesday. Robinson reported to the special meeting that he discussed the port and disposition of sludge dredged from Hillsboro Canal, that work would go ahead at once on the project.

Sludge Disposition
Mayor Walter Ashley presided at the meeting called to formulate a policy on what disposition to make of sludge from canal deepening. Commissioners agreed to authorize the city manager to dispose of sludge to anyone who wants to defray the cost of putting it on their property. Good rock will go on the city streets and balance to a stock pile for future use, it was said.

Street Commissioner H. O. Carlton and the city manager will bring streets up to grade with the dredged material and build new streets for which dedications are already made, Robinson said.

Although the agenda for next Wednesday's meeting has not been completed, it was said that a report of Russell and Axon, engineers retained by the city, would be high on the priority list. They are expected to report on sewer line plans, accessibility of Belle Glade to the proposed gas pipeline and practicality of using the gas, and also on a proposed incinerator.

MRS. GEORGE C. YOUNG, Belle Glade: "I am convinced the matter of the location of the courthouse for the Glades area is a responsibility of the County Commission. The Commission is empowered—the decision and responsibility of it should rest there. When roads are to be built to serve an area, the community within that area is not asked to locate them. A scientific survey is made and the roads built—all governed by standards set up by professional and unbiased personnel. Likewise should this issue be handled, then it would cease to be an issue—it never should have been. I stand wholeheartedly in favor of the recent action which suggested no site, and left the matter of location up to the County Commission to be arrived at by a professional survey guided by factors outlined to the Commission. Undisputed facts and figures are available from governmental agencies and should be well-known by the County Commission. I believe the County Commission is derelict in its duty to our citizens if it does not decide this question."

IMMAN WEEKS, Pahokee: "I think that if western Palm Beach county is due a sub-courthouse then it is the responsibility of the County Commission to see to it that they get it. As to location, if the city fathers and representatives can't get together and if the County Commission won't assume the responsibility, then a citizens committee should be appointed from the Glades—not the coast."

EDWIN M. LIVELY, Belle Glade: "My idea of the whole thing is that we elect a County Commission of supposedly intelligent men who are elected to decide what is the best for the most people in the county. Therefore, I feel that in this instance, they should do just that and make up their minds where to place a sub-courthouse which will serve conveniently the most people involving the least travel. It shouldn't be left to Chamber of Commerce groups from the individual communities to make a joint decision since they are quite naturally (and should be) biased in their opinions. The Commission should stop fiddling around with this and make a definite decision if they really intend to build a sub-courthouse."

MRS. GLADYS MITCHELL, South Bay: "It's the people in the Glades' fault. Grown people ought to be able to make up their minds and get things done."

House Trailer In Crash With Truck

PAHOKEE — A house trailer and truck collision late Tuesday afternoon hospitalized Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frank, who were en route from Miami to Chicago.

Everglades Memorial Hospital attaches reported yesterday that the Franks were in good condition, although suffering shock and bruising.

The collision, which turned the house-trailer over, occurred on the north of J & S Park near Chauncey Bay, when the Chrysler towing the trailer, driven by Mrs. Frank, hit a bump in the road, causing the house trailer to crash into an oncoming semi-trailer. The rear of the tow-car and front of the trailer were carried into the air and thrown over the highway. The truck driver was reported not injured.

A. B. BARNES, South Bay: "I think we need a sub-courthouse. This is like it has always been, for just plain hellacious this crowd can't get together. I think it's terrible. Either location would suit me. It's a shame, this whole thing I've been here since 1917, and it's always been that way."

DELMAR HOOKS, Canal Point: "I was the last one who said a word at the meeting. I told the County Commissioners they had done everything they could to get the sub-courthouse. It was a shame and a disgrace that Pahokee and Belle Glade couldn't get together. They just threw $120,000 out the window. When the people of the Glades can start thinking of the whole county instead of just one spot, it will be a great improvement, and things like this can be decided easily."

THADD WHIDDEN, Pahokee: "I was disappointed. I was quite a blow to the Glades, but it might be a good thing, too. Who said 'United we stand, divided we fall'? Until we learn to get together out here, it looks like that's the way it will be."

J. MARVIN UNWIN, Belle Glade: "If the Glades is going to get a sub-courthouse, I feel that since the commission is unwilling to make a decision themselves, that the survey as requested is the best solution in arriving at a proper location."

MR. AND MRS. MANNING, West Palm Beach: "We're available from the airport is the place for the sub-courthouse however, since it has not been accepted as yet, we feel that some group, maybe a group of business men instead of city officials, should be appointed to decide the proper location. Why should the people of the Glades suffer because everybody is acting like children instead of adults?"

LAST DAY FOR CANDIDATES

PAHOKEE — With qualifying deadline for Council candidates at 5 p. m. today, R. D. Hardaway was the first and last candidate to appear at the OBSERVER press-time only announced candidate for one of two seats to be filled at election house.

Hardaway, 37-year-old insurance agent, qualified as a candidate from Group 1, the Council seat now held by Louis F. Mims. Both Mims and Group 2 Councilman F. S. Parrish, whose term also expires next month, have indicated they do not plan to run for reelection.

In the case of a seat not filled by election, the term becomes vacant, according to City Clerk Dorothy Graham, at whose office candidates may file.

Hardaway said he was a candidate because he is interested in the community and its growth, will have some time to devote to Council duties, and "it doesn't look like anyone else has any interest in it."

A native of Arkansas, Hardaway came to Pahokee early in 1946. He has been associated with the United Insurance Company of Illinois sub-district office for the past three years. He is married and has one son, Richard. Hardaway is a member of First Baptist Church, the Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce.

Mayoral Variance On C'house

Mayors of the three principal Glades towns expressed varying reactions this week following the County Commission meeting Monday at which the proposed Glades sub-courthouse was bootlegged out of the picture "indefinitely."

Mayor S. J. Fisher, of South Bay, said that he felt nothing could be gained by a statement from him "at this time."

Mayor Lewis Friend, Pahokee, said "I am flabbergasted." Mayor Walter Ashley, Belle Glade, said Tuesday that he was willing to meet with Pahokee and South Bay representatives 'anytime' to try to work out a location for the sub-courthouse. He said that he would be happy to attend a special session of the representatives at a place that would be most convenient to all of them "to protect Glades interests in having a sub-courthouse located in the Glades."

Topic A
Topic A among all communities around the Lake in Palm Beach County was the Commission's action Monday, when representatives of the three municipalities went to the Commission prepared to hear a decision promised for that date on the sub-courthouse site.

Indefinite postponement of the project was proposed by Commissioner Paul Rardin, Canal Point, who said the board this week was just as far from picking a site for the sub-courthouse as it had been 10 years ago when he first proposed that such a building be constructed. Rardin said he made his original suggestion for the sub-courthouse, with the hope that such an installation would be of service to Glades residents.

"Instead," Rardin said, "the idea has torn asunder friendships of many years. . . I don't want to be a party to something that will keep the area all stirred up."

Loyal Helps
Rardin was backed in his motion by Commissioner Lake Loyal who lectured the packed audience on what appeared to be the inability of Glades communities to get together on a common site for the building.

"I think it's a dirty shame," Loyal said, "that everytime something like this comes up, you can't get together for the benefit of the entire Glades area. . . It seems to me that if you acted like adults you could reach agreement on a matter like this."

He went on to explain the Commission considers the most important sections in the entire state, and that in proposing the sub-courthouse, had been offered.

EARLY CARE SAVES TEETH

(This article is published as a public service by GLADES OBSERVER in cooperation with the Florida State Dental society.)

Early dental care can save your child from the rocky road to ruined teeth now being traveled by millions of Americans. With special mirror and x-ray, the dentist can spot that pinpoint decay when it can be repaired quickly, painlessly and cheaply.

He can start the child in the use of the toothbrush.

He can apply sodium fluoride to the child's teeth to prevent decay.

When a tooth is missing, the dentist can insert a space maintainer so that the permanent teeth can come into their proper positions.

He can carefully check the "sixth year molars," the first permanent teeth to come in. Since these do not replace primary teeth, parents often do not realize that these teeth are permanent. The sixth year molars have been called the "keystone of the dental arch" because they influence the position of the other teeth.

A dentist on the first visit can also examine the child for crowded, spaced, protruded, rotated or "bad bite" teeth.

Corrections of such conditions can often be made with wire appliances so slight and small that children can wear them without discomfort or visibility. Unlike the crude appliances of former years, the guide wires are as small as horsehairs and yet strong enough to move even adult teeth.

Authorities agree that a child should be introduced to a dentist long before he gets a toothache. A good time to go is when mother herself has an appointment. The dentist can show the child around, explain his equipment and strike up a happy, friendly relationship.

The visit to the dentist should be treated as a normal thing. Mother should be careful about any infection in the voice or heavy sighing as she tells some one within earshot of the child, "I have to take Tommy to the dentist."

Too often grownups are fond of a peculiar kind of boasting. They enlarge on any small discomforts experienced in dental work and go into useless details that frighten children needlessly.

Fear of dentists, studies have shown, is learned from others. In this day of painless dentistry, it is an unnecessary fear.

Legislative History Is Rotary Topic

BELLE GLADE — Rotarians last Friday heard OBSERVER Staffer Ben S. Roberts discuss the history of the legislature in Florida.

J. Marvin Unwin, president, presided at the meeting and urged Rotarians to attend the joint Pahokee-Belle Glade dinner held last night to celebrate the 50th anniversary of Rotary and the 25th year of Rotary in Pahokee. He told the club that Belle Glade Rotary Club is 19 years old this year.

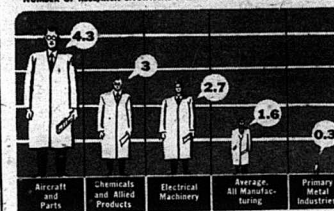

Roberts, during the course of his remarks, said that Florida's original legislative assembly consisted of a territorial governor appointed in 1821 and 13 councilors. The group met in three log cabins built near the site of the present capital in Tallahassee and made plans for the building of a community there. Between 1821 and 1845, when Florida was admitted as a state in the Union, legislators had opportunity to find solutions to economic, social, and political problems which furnished them valuable experience in formulation of a state constitution, Roberts said.

In alluding to the period of the War Between the States in Florida, Roberts said that Tallahassee was the only state capital in the Confederacy east of the Mississippi to avoid capture by Union forces. In discussing the conflict as it pertained to Florida, Roberts pointed out that Union forces held Pensacola and Key West. The contributions of Florida to the Confederacy in silk, cattle, and their food stuffs was primary importance to the legislators then holding office and prevented their focusing attention on purely state business matters, Roberts added.

Got an itch to switch the pitch?

Here's the New Hot in Handtops—the 4-Door Riviera

WANT to do what a pilot does when he clears for take-off?

Want to feel the pulse-quickenning thrill that comes of giving the gun to a high-powered automobile with the world's first airplane-inspired transmission?

Want to try Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—the spectacular new wonder drive that's the talk of car makers and car buyers alike—and the drive that's sending Buick sales soaring to new record-breaking highs?

Well, sir—be our test-pilot guest at the wheel of a '55 Buick and let today's Dynaflow do the honors.

When you press the pedal as you normally would, you move ahead in velvety smoothness, getting plenty of miles from each gallon of gas . . .

Because twenty propeller-like blades inside the Dynaflow unit, spinning in oil, have an angle of "pitch" for top economy—like the modern plane's propellers when cruising in the air.

But comes the need for emergency acceleration, and—like a pilot does for quick take-off and climb—you switch the pitch of those Dynaflow propellers for action, just by pressing the pedal all the way down.

Instantly, you get full-power response for split-second getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge to get out of a tight spot on the highway.

It's a response thrilling beyond all previous experience—because there's never been anything like it before in any car.

And we'd like you to try it—along with the wallowing new V8 power, the cruiser-steady ride, the fine handling ease, and the true big-car roominess that are all part and parcel of every Buick.

Can you come in today—this week, for sure—and test pilot the hottest Buick yet built?

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, Belle Glade CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

Man's God-given dominion over fear will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation after Death" will include the following from the Bible (Hebrews 2:9-15): "But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels from the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man. And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage."

Among the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is this (426:16): "When it is learned that disease cannot destroy life, and that mortals are not saved from sin or sickness by death, this understanding will quicken into newness of life. It will master either a desire to die or a dread of the grave, and thus destroy the great fear that besets mortal existence."

P TAG ACTION AWAITS SEC.

BELLE GLADE — Any new development in Glades Farmers and Harvesters Association opposition to revision of the "P" tag law awaited return this week of Association Secretary J. H. Livingston, from an Orlando meeting.

Livingston went to Orlando Thursday, presumably to discuss "P" tag proposals with citrus growers there. Louie Kirchman, association president, withheld comment on what policy the farmers and harvesters would follow awaiting Livingston's return.

Association members in meetings last Wednesday and Friday adopted a resolution opposing House Bill 39 containing a revision of the "P" tag law. It is alleged that the bill would deny citrus and other farmers of their right to use loaded farm vehicles carrying "P" tags on highways.

Former Representative B. Elliott, sponsor of the 1953 "P" tag amendment, explained the provisions of the present law to the group. He outlined the effect that the proposed legislation now before the House would have.

RED CROSS IN SPECIAL MEET

PAHOKEE — Officials of Palm Beach County Red Cross chapter met with heads of local civic groups Friday morning to discuss ways and means of providing Red Cross transportation for Glades residents to clinics and hospitals on the coast.

Mrs. Frank Friend, president of the WSCS of Pahokee First Methodist Church and president of the hospital auxiliary reported that Mel Livengood, county chapter director, would bring the need for a Glades-stationed vehicle before the chapter meeting held yesterday. Dr. Earl C. Barkley, and Mrs. Leah Dane accompanied Livengood to the meeting at Pahokee Women's Club which was attended by Lion president-elect Clyde Canipe; Rotary President-elect Bascom Belcher; Mrs. Norman Kenyon, Woman's Club president; Mrs. Otto Blech, representing the Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Curtis Chase, representing the Red Cross Motor Corps; Mrs. Don Hillier, Garden Club president; and O. B. McCure.

It was pointed out to the chapter heads that three or four trips a week are required to transport persons to the Veterans' hospital or Jackson Memorial hospital, in Miami, or to the Crippled Children's Society or the Tumor Clinic in West Palm Beach.

A report on the action by the county chapter of the Red Cross was not available at OBSERVER press time.

GAMBLING PLEA SET FOR TUES.

Ten Glades Negroes arrested Sunday on gambling and liquor charges will plead before Judge Edward G. Newell in Criminal Court of Record Tuesday, according to George Atchison, State Beverage Department supervisor.

Atchison said law violations were found in four out of five jukes raided early Sunday near Okeechobee labor camp on SR 80 two miles west of Belle Glade.

The 10 Negroes were taken into custody, Atchison said, after complaints kept coming into the beverage office about liquor being sold in places having only beer and wine licenses. Atchison pointed out that raids of this kind are conducted in a strictly legal fashion without "strong arm" methods.

Officers making the raids found not only illegal sale of whiskey in several places but extensive gambling operations. There was so much gambling equipment, Atchison said, that he hoped the court would accept as evidence the testimony of the raiding officers rather than making them bring all of the fixtures into the court room. Deputy Sheriff Bobby Newman received Atchison's praise for his help in the raid. Bonds of $5,000 were set for the following persons who were arrested on the charges listed: Leroy Williams and Mildred King, running a gambling house; Viola Stewart, Sheriff Wright, Gene Haywood, Leroy Tate, Anny B. Jones and Eddie Brown, running a gambling game; Edward Dean, possession of gambling equipment; and Charles Woodley, illegal possession of whiskey.

TWO VICTIMS IN CRASH ON TUESDAY

BELLE GLADE — One critically injured victim of a car accident on US 27 south of South Bay Tuesday night remained in Belle Glade Memorial hospital today. He was Larry Andrews, Hialeah, a passenger in a car driven by Joseph Leonard.

Leonard was released from the hospital shortly after being admitted with minor injuries but Andrews suffered severe head injuries. Leonard, apparently under the control of his car a half mile south of South Bay and it plunged into the ditch, according to report of Trooper Lloyd Clifton, Florida Highway Patrol.

MAYORS

ing the area a service. He added that Delray Beach, Boynton Beach or Jupiter had just as much right to expect a sub-courthouse since residents in those areas are located as far from West Palm Beach as sections in the Glades.

Lyall left the door open for future discussion of the project by asking the Glades delegation to meet and try to determine what is best for the Glades — not what is best for any individual city.

Prior to the commission's unanimous decision to postpone the project, representatives from the areas of both Pahokee and Belle Glade spoke in favor of locating the sub-courthouse in their respective areas.

Following the commission's action, Mayor Friend told the county board that it shouldn't be "upset" about the seeming controversy between Pahokee and Belle Glade.

Residents of the two areas are friends, he said, and "our struggles are a sign of progress."

George Wedgworth, one of the Belle Glade spokesmen said, "I think we have overemphasized the disagreement between the two communities. We get along fine, but when it comes to community pride, we like to bring out the facts."

ROTARY

Community Center last night. Roscoe Braddock, president-elect of the Belle Glade club was master of ceremonies and introduced J. Abney Cox, past district governor of Rotary who addressed the dinner guests on "Hats Off To The Past—Costs Off To The Future."
